ISELIN, N.J., July 01, 2020 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Middlesex Water Company (NASDAQ: MSEX), a provider of water, wastewater and related services, announced today it has been selected as one of the Top Workplaces in New Jersey by NJ.com. The list of top New Jersey workplaces is based solely on employee feedback gathered through a third-party survey administered by employee engagement technology partner Energage, LLC. The anonymous survey uniquely measures 15 drivers of engaged cultures, which are critical to the success of any organization—including alignment, execution and connection.

"In times of great change, it is more important than ever to maintain a connection among employees," said Eric Rubino, Energage CEO. "When you give your employees a voice, you come together to navigate challenges and shape your path forward based on real-time insights into what works best for your organization. The Top Workplaces program can be that positive outcome your company can rally around in the coming months to celebrate leadership and the importance of maintaining an employee-focused culture, even during challenging times." Energage uses employee surveys, neuroscience and expert insights to evaluate and determine those companies that are succeeding in engaging employees in building a stronger workplace culture. Middlesex, in the midsized category, is one of 40 large, midsized and small companies earning the 2020 Top Workplaces designation.

"We're delighted to be recognized as one of the top places to work in New Jersey and have our employees to thank for that honor," said Middlesex Water Chairman, President and CEO Dennis W. Doll. "We offer competitive compensation and benefit plans, professional development opportunities and numerous employee events that demonstrate how much we appreciate their contributions, as well as how we value each and every employee as individuals. A strong company culture should never be taken for granted and neither should the individuals who make it so," added Doll. "We're a family -- united by our values -- in delivering a life-sustaining service and making a meaningful difference in the quality of life in the communities we serve," added Doll.
