

Gerard L. Esposito Appointed to Delaware Solid Waste Authority Board of Directors

July 16, 2008

ISELIN, NJ -- (MARKET WIRE) -- 07/16/08 -- Middlesex Water Company (NASDAQ: MSEX) has announced that Gerard L. Esposito, President of Tidewater Utilities, Inc., Middlesex's wholly-owned subsidiary in Delaware, has been appointed to the Delaware Solid Waste Authority (DSWA) Board of Directors. Delaware Governor Ruth Ann Minner formally appointed Mr. Esposito to the Board position, which the State Senate approved and he accepted on June 26, 2008. The Delaware Solid Waste Authority's Board of Directors is comprised of seven Delaware residents representing The City of Wilmington and the three counties.

Richard Pryor, DSWA's Chairman of the Board, said, "On behalf of my colleagues, I am delighted to welcome Jerry Esposito to the Board of Directors of the Delaware Solid Waste Authority. Mr. Esposito brings a wealth of relevant experience from the public, the private, and the regulated sectors of the Delaware economy that will enhance the Board's discharge of its complex responsibilities. We look forward to his contribution and insights as we continue to address Delaware's need for sustainable public policy and programs to manage solid waste here in Delaware."

The DSWA's Board of Directors sets policies and makes decisions regarding current operations, programs and planning. The Board is also required to adopt a "Statewide Solid Waste Management Plan" to provide the framework for the future of the Delaware Solid Waste Authority.

Mr. Esposito has served as President of Tidewater Utilities, Inc. since 2002. Tidewater, based in Dover, DE, serves retail and contract water and wastewater customers throughout the Delmarva Peninsula. Its parent company, Middlesex Water Company, based in Iselin, NJ, has more than a century of utility management and operations experience.
